May Topic: “Corruption in the Federal Tax System”

Speaker: Julie Parodi,
TIGTA Assistant Special Agent in Charge

By Greg Crofton, EA, Program Chair

Did you ever wonder where to report misuse of position by an IRS employee without causing problems for you or your client? Do you know who and what TIGTA is?

After finishing that last tax return for this season and a well deserved period of recuperation, we have a fascinating dinner topic for our next dinner meeting. Rather than dive right back into the tax code, we have a speaker from TIGTA who will speak about Corruption in the Federal Tax System, what TIGTA is and why we want to know about TIGTA.

Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (“TIGTA”) has oversight over IRS activities. Their role is to protect the tax administration process and will speak to us about the role we play in reporting IRS employee and practitioner misconduct. This topic will qualify for 1 hour toward your annual ethics education requirement.

Speaker Julie Parodi is a graduate of Cal State University Sacramento. She began her law enforcement career in 1987 with the IRS Inspection Service as a Criminal Investigator in San Francisco. In 1998, the Inspection Service was removed from the IRS and TIGTA was created in its place. She continued as a TIGTA Special Agent until January of 2007 when she became the Assistant Special Agent in Charge of the Oakland group in the San Francisco Field Division. She currently supervises seven Special Agents in Oakland, CA and Honolulu, Hawaii.

PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE
by Tom Johnston, EA

As my year as President draws to a close I would be ungrateful if I did not express my appreciation for the many who have blessed my life this year. Thank you for those of you who have taken a moment to introduce yourselves to me and chat or express your appreciation. Thank you to all the officers, board of directors, committee chairs and members who have so tirelessly served. Thank you to the Past Presidents and so many others who gave me support and advice when it was needed. Thank you to all of you who in large and small ways quietly work to make the chapter function.

As I reflect on my goals and accomplishments this year, what I have done pales in comparison to the united efforts of others in the association. I am grateful to you all for all you do to advance the profession and association. We have accomplished much this year. Look for our "Year in Review" article in this summer's CSEA magazine. Please welcome and give our new officers and board the same wonderful support you have given me. And please...

Remember the Legacy and Accept the Opportunity to Serve with Purpose.
ASK THE ATTORNEY

One of my children has a drug or alcohol problem. What should I do?

There are a number of alternatives which may fit your family’s situations. Delayed distributions or incentives to promote healing; annuities to provide guaranteed retirement income; or, a lifetime trust with limitations on pre-approved expenses can be drafted into the estate plan instead of providing for an outright distribution.

Each of these alternatives will insure an inheritance for a loved one. However, you should also carefully consider who should serve as trustee. Professional fiduciaries, such as banks, attorneys, or other certified specialists, can serve as a trustee and relieve a responsible family member from the strain of dealing with a drug or alcohol dependent child who is exerting pressure for more money.

Do I need to record any of my estate planning documents? What if I have previously recorded a power of attorney?

Recording estate planning documents is not required. The only document that is required to be record ed is the deed which transfers real estate that you own into your trust. In most situations, it is not recommended; a living trust is a private document which only needs to be shared with the persons of your choosing. However, in some situations, it may be advisable to record powers of attorney to give notice that the agent has the legal right to act on a disabled adult’s behalf or to give notice that a previously-recorded power of attorney has been changed.

BULLETIN ADVERTISING POLICY
by Duncan Sandiland, Bulletin Editor
To encourage more Members to use the Bulletin to fill their needs, we present the Bulletin advertising policy:
1) All Bulletin notices are run for three months maximum. If you wish to run a notice for a longer period, you must resubmit it.
2) Maximum notice size is 1.5 column inches. This equals a space one and one-half inches high by one column (3.5 inches) wide. The standard Bulletin font is Times New Roman 11 point.
3) The Bulletin Editor reserves the right to edit any notice for style, content and length.
4) All notices must be submitted (and payment received) by the 25th of the month prior to initial publication. Send the desired text to: bulletin@ebaea.org
5) Member notices seeking or offering employment, clients or EA-practice-related matters are run at no charge as a Member benefit. This includes an ad run by a firm which employs a Member. Member notices offering other services or products, and all non-Member notices are run at the standard fee of $150 for the three-month insertion. The Bulletin Editor reserves the right to modify or reject any notice which, in the sole opinion of the Editor, violates any of the principles of EBAEA.

CHAPTER OFFICE HAS MOVED
Effective immediately, the new address is 30100 Mission Blvd, Suite 6, Hayward 94544. The contact phone remains the same at 800-617-1040, and the new local number is 510-487-2063. The old local number 925-691-1866 has been disconnected. The new fax number is 510-487-1501. The email address remains ebaea@ebaea.org. PLEASE UPDATE YOUR RECORDS

SAVE THE DATES!
Tax Talk 2008 will be held on November 5th, 6th and 7th, 2008 at the Radisson Hotel Dublin. Our program is still developing but we have confirmed Mel Kreger on November 5th presenting My Very First 1041, and My Second, and My Third…, followed by Frank Acuna in the afternoon presenting Trust Administration and Funding Trusts. We are also bringing back Gary McBride with Tom Daley on November 6th presenting our Federal & California Updates. Friday morning we open with Lloyd Kendall, founder of Lawyers Asset in San Leandro, 1031 expert & author, former IRS agent, presenting 1031’s. Then we have 2 hours ethics, and in the afternoon, Bryan Gates is presenting recent trends in audits for four hours.

Mel Kreger will be presenting My Very First 1041, & My Second, & My Third for the two Wednesday morning sessions. Fiduciary tax returns are very confusing because the same form is used by a number of different types of entities. For each type of entity there are a number of options that can be applied. In addition, the rules governing the tax reporting can be altered in the document that created the entity. We will spend four-hours demystifying Form 1041 by using extremely simple examples and then showing step by step how to get your computer program to produce the return you want. The novice will learn where to start and what questions to ask, while the experienced preparer will see how to use tools that are often hidden in their computer software. The IRS has announced its intention to significantly increase the number of 1041 audits. You need to be prepared and you need to be confident.

Please feel free to email Diane Jaworski-Faulhaber at synergyf@pacbell.net with suggestions for topics and/or speakers for the rest of our program. See you in November!

HMMMM…
More than 70% of the rebate paid to taxpayers from the 2001 economic stimulus plan was used by Americans to augment their savings or pay off credit card debt (Financial Times).

In 1988, it took taxable income of $363,000 on a joint return to produce federal income tax of $100,000. Over the last 20 years, Congress has implemented major changes to the tax code (other than normal cost-of-living adjustments) in 1990, 1993, 2001 and 2003. Now 20 years later, it will take 2008 taxable income of $367,000 on a joint return to produce federal income tax of $100,000 – much ado about nothing? (Tax Foundation).
The problems facing Medicare are even worse than those of Social Security as benefits being paid out of the Medicare program are expected to exceed tax revenues from 208 forward. The Medicare trust fund is projected to be depleted in 2019 (just 11 years from now). The long-term (75 year) present value shortfall in the trust fund could be corrected by an immediate 51% reduction in program benefits (SSA).

Medicare expenses are expected to be $396 billion during the current fiscal year or 14% of total government spending. Former Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan has characterized rising Medicare expenses as the #1 threat to our economy, greater than the current mortgage/housing crisis (White House, Fortune).

HUMOR

I have always paid income tax. I object only when it reaches a stage when I am threatened with having nothing left for my old age - which is due to start next Tuesday or Wednesday. -- Noel Coward

The United States has a system of taxation by confession. -- Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black

Tax reform is taking the taxes off things that have been taxed in the past and putting taxes on things that haven't been taxed before. -- Art Buchwald

The invention of the teenager was a mistake. Once you identify a period of life in which people get to stay out late but don't have to pay taxes — naturally, no one wants to live any other way. -- Judith Martin (writing as "Miss Manners")

On the movie set, the special effects guy is explaining a prop gun to the famous blond actress. The prop guy says, "For the last time, if you point this gun and shoot it, no one will get hurt. It's filled with blanks. When have you ever heard of anyone getting killed by a blank?" The actress replied, "My husband, last year, when he filled out our tax forms."
